

PIVOT - TO POSITIVE LEADERSHIP

The Road to High Performance

Today's world is calling for a different approach to leadership. A positive approach to leadership increases your ability to bring out the best in people, build strong teams and optimize the organization's capacity for teamwork, innovation and productivity. Positive leaders attract, engage, inspire, and retain the best talent. Recent research from positive psychology and neuroscience has shown us the path for a new revolution in leadership. This workshop provides a transformational approach to develop your uniquely personal approach to positive leadership based upon your strengths and the new thinking emerging from research.

Who Should Attend

- Leaders who wish to amplify the inspirational side of their leadership.
- Leaders who recognize that new skills and approaches are necessary in contemporary times where the environment is dramatically changing, where the rules that have guided how we operate no longer apply, and where the best leaders will be transparent with their intentions, having a seamless link between their espoused values, actions, and behaviors.
- Human Resources and Organizational Development professionals looking for leadership developmental approaches that increase employee engagement and organizational performance.
